

World Book Day is only a month away!

To celebrate this important event this year, we have decided to do something a little bit different.

Children will be welcome to come to school dressed up, but this time we would like them to come as a word. Here are some examples! Prizes will be given for imaginative ideas!

Come in and share a book with your child!

We'd like to invite you to come into school for the first 20 minutes of the school day on World Book Day to share a story, poem or comic with a child or two! Grandparents, aunts and uncles would be more than welcome too.

Book in a Jar Competition for World Book Day

- There will also be a competition to create a book inside a jar. The idea behind this is to think of a favourite book and include objects that relate to it. For example a Harry Potter jar could include; some spells, a hat, a broom, a favourite quote from the book....

A Charlie and the Chocolate factory jar might contain different sweets, some cabbage and a pair of false teeth.

Shadow the Sheepdog
By Enid Blyton

Instructions:

- Find a clean jar with a lid.
- Decide which book to use.
- Find pictures, models, small things which represent the book.
- Put the book's title and author on the jar.
- Put a label with your name and form on the jar.
